Brief education and work history with relevant accomplishments regarding to ICC-PBM2018 (max 120 words):

Graham Donald is an alumnus of Keble College, Oxford, a retired senior civil servant and a former blood donor.

His late mother had a transfusion which Graham consented to on her behalf, because she had dementia.

Proposed by the Royal College of Pathologists, Graham has been a lay member of the National Blood Transfusion Committee since 2008. He serves on NBTC groups and committees, including the Patient Involvement Working Group which writes patient information leaflets and the Patient Blood Management Working Group. Graham was a member of the Guideline Development Group which wrote the recent NICE Guideline on Blood Transfusion.

Currently, Graham is a member of the Blood Transfusion and Blood Donation Priority Steering Partnership for the James Lind Alliance.
